

City of Clinton, North Carolina
Recreation & Parks Department Volunteer Coaching Policy

Introduction

The Clinton Recreation and Parks Department takes great pride in offering quality programs and services to the residents of Clinton. To provide such services, the City through this policy sets a high standard for volunteerism. The City Manager, Police Chief, and/or the Recreation & Park Director reserves the right to reject or ban any individual at any time whose previous or current behavior is considered not in the best interest of a program or the participants therein. Examples of unacceptable behavior might include but are not limited to, significant unsportsmanlike actions, inappropriate speech or actions, discriminatory speech or actions, threatening or belligerent behavior towards people and/or property, or failure to follow rules/policies of a specific program.

Purpose

While parks & recreation departments across the country depend on volunteerism, failing to take any steps to screen volunteers places organizations, the volunteers, and most importantly, the participants at risk. A screening process and guidelines are intended to strengthen public confidence and lessen the risk of exposure to liability due to the lack of knowledge regarding a volunteer's behavior. An effective screening process will assist the City of Clinton in:

1. Promoting public confidence in programs offered by the City,
2. Ensuring the safety of all participants, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, elderly, or special needs, and
3. Selecting quality individuals/volunteers to work within City programs.
